jake the pirate

I am a pirate and I sail the seven seas
I am a pirate and I look into the breeze
When ships see me coming they all try to flee
'Cause I am a pirate and I sail the seven seas

Chorus
Well, yo ho ho, what do you know,
it's a pirate's life for me
Yo ho ho, what do you know,
it's a pirate's life for me
Yo ho ho, what do you know, it's a pirate's life for me AARRRR!

My name is Jake, my mates call me Jake the Scary

Some of the others they call me Jake the Fierce They call me Jake the Fierce because my ### down at the beach

Mom and Dad took me to the beach one day
And I sat down in the sand to play
On a Sunday afternoon last summer
That's when I saw a crab wondering to and fro
Then he walked right up and pinched me in the toe
Down at the beach on a Sunday afternoon
That's when a seagull flew overhead
Dropped a seashell on my head
That's when a big wave came up the sand
Left some seaweed in my hand
That's when a big clam bit my shorts right there Pulled them down and left me bare
That's when a blue whale popped out of the sea
He took one long look and he laughed at me
Next Sunday I think I'll go to the park instead

chooga choogie boogie woogie

Train keeps riding around and around and around Don't know where they're going, don't know where they're bound
Chooga chooga choogie, boogie woogie all the time

My old daddy worked all his life on the rails
Dance to the rhythm as the train rolled down the trail
Chooga chooga choogie, boogie woogie all the time
Train brings lots of things for you and me
They travel north, south, east, west and from sea to sea...

Train needs a conductor and it needs an engineer
When they drive by won't you give them a great big cheer...
Chooga chooga choogie, boogie woogie all the time

There is a moose her name is Bubbles
She has her fair share of allergy troubles
When she eats ice cream her stomach grumbles
That's how she ended up with the name Bubbles

Chorus
Bubbles is a moose with allergies
Don't give her flowers or she will sneeze
And remember please, please, please
No matter what don't feed her cheese

Her friend Bob the beaver had her over for lunch
He served her a big glass of strawberry punch Well she wasn't sure but she had a hunch Sure enough those strawberries packed a punch
Chorus

Well Bubbles lives on Canada's East Coast
She's pretty humble doesn't like to boast
But when it comes to allergies she has the most
She can't even eat peanut butter on toast
Chorus

sleep

My child, it's time for bed
On your pillow you can rest your head
Will you remember all those things I said
Will there come a time when you worry about me instead

In your dreams, what will you see
Will you fly across the land and the sea
When you grow older, where will you be
Will you remember to come and see me

I look into your face, your eyes are closed
You just scrunched up your perfect little nose
What are you seeing, what do you suppose
Behind those eyelids nobody knows

I watch you grow so tall and strong
As the days, they pass along
Remember that it's for you I sing this song
And in my heart, is the place where you belong
